

A Compromise Reorganization Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee today unanimously approved a compromise bill to reorganize the Defense Department. President Eisenhower objected to two key features of it.

The bill largely follows Eisenhower's recommendations as to command over military forces made up of more than one service. It contains two major provisions to help establish a clear line of command from a president through the secretary of defense to the forces in the field.

It does this by providing an operational joint staff of up to 400 members for the joint chiefs of staff and by limiting command powers of the individual service chiefs.

But the committee refused to go as far as Eisenhower wishes in authorizing the secretary of defense to reassign military functions among the services. It wrote in provisions saying the head of any one of the separate services—the chief of staff of the Army or Air Force or Navy—can object to such a transfer and in effect refer the question to Congress for determination.

Prescott Holds Graduation Party Tonight

PRESCOTT, Ark. (AP) — Prescott throws off the lid tonight for its annual high school graduation extravaganza — a 4-year-old event which last year won the small southwest Arkansas town an extensive writeup in a national magazine.

The all-night celebration begins at 7:30 p. m. with a banquet and the junior-senior prom at the high school. It will end tomorrow morning with a swimmer's party at the municipal pool.

The downtown section of the city of 3,900 has been decorated in a Southern Colonial motif for the festivities. The downtown portion of the celebration includes a theater party, a chapel service and a breakfast party.

More than 1,000 Prescott residents served on committees to organize the extravaganza and several thousand persons are expected to attend the downtown portion.

The celebration was given an extensive spread of pictures and text last year by Coronet Magazine which cited Prescott for doing something about a juvenile problem before it had died.

Farm Housing Loan Program Extended

More farm construction — with better homes for farm families, better shelter for livestock and improved storage facilities for machinery and grain, that's the prospect in coming years says W. M. Sparks, County Supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration.

Recently, as an anti-recession measure, his agency expanded its farm housing loan program to the fullest extent possible under existing laws set up by Congress. To be eligible now, an applicant must own a farm that is in agricultural production and must plan to produce at least $400 worth of commodities for sale and home use based on 1944 prices. Many past-time farmers who previously were ineligible can qualify for loans under the expanded program.

Ray F. Fry, Chairman of the Hempstead County FHA Committee said that application has already been approved by his committee and is being processed for a loan. The construction work can start after the loan is closed.

The loan bears a 4 per cent interest on the unpaid balance and may be repaid over a period up to 33 years.

Russians Talk Of Sending Up Passengers

By ROY ESSOYAN

MOSCOW (AP) — Prof. Eugene Friedberg, head of the Soviet Union's Sputnik program, said today the Russians will launch animals again into space in the future but that Sputnik III carried no passengers—animal or human.

He predicted the third Soviet artificial earth satellite, launched Thursday, would last a little longer than Sputnik II but that it too would disintegrate before falling back to earth.

Soviet scientists, he said, have not yet solved the problem of bringing a satellite back to earth intact.

The Soviet International Geophysical Year Committee called a news conference that established several negative factors about the latest Soviet earth satellite.

Atomic energy was not used to launch it.

No new fuel — just common chemical fuel — was used.

There were no dogs or other animals aboard.

Sputnik III will not return to earth.

In answer to a question from a Communist correspondent, he said lacking any request from the United States the Soviet Union has no plans to show the Americans how to launch a comparable satellite.

Lion Mauls a Little Girl to Death in a Zoo

WASHINGTON (AP) — A lion snatched a little girl from the grasp of her frantically resisting grandfather at the Washington Zoo Friday, pulled her into the cage and killed her.

The grandfather, Harry Jackson of Washington, was too deep in shock to give a coherent account of the death of 2-year-old Julia Ann Vogt, a visitor from Chilliwack, British Columbia.

But police obtained a partial story of the tragedy from Wesley Dildy, 12, who was visiting the zoo with a school group from Princess Anne County, Va.

"The rest of the class was down the hill," the boy said.

"I heard a loud scream by the lion's cage. I ran up to look and this little girl was in front of the cage and the lion had caught her by the leg and was pulling."

"A man grabbed her arms and tried to pull her away but the lion was stronger. The lion kept pulling and got her body in the cage with him."

"The man kept hitting the lion on the head trying to make him release her. The lion started walking around inside with her in his mouth."

Dr. Theodore Reed, zoo director, said officials could only assume the child wandered away from the grandfather as they strolled along the outside cages.

She apparently walked to the end of the outer wire mesh barrier to an opening where equipment can be brought in front of the barred cages.

As she walked past the cage of Queenie, a year-old lioness, she was grabbed. The grandfather apparently pursued her.

When the alarm got out, two keepers went into the cage to hold off the lioness and recover the girl's decapitated body.

Stomach detectives ordered the lion house closed.

This was the first such tragedy in the zoo's history.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A lion pulled a little girl into a cage at the Washington Zoo today and mauled her to death.

The child was 2½-year-old Julia Ann Vogt of Chilliwack, British Columbia. She was here visiting her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jackson.

She was taken to the zoo by her grandfather who was in such deep shock after the tragedy that he was unable to give a clear account.

Police said the girl apparently made her way through an outer barrier and walked too close to the cage.

Truillo Heads Dominican for 28 Years

By LARRY ALLEN

CIUDAD TRUILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — This prosperous Caribbean island republic heads into the 28th year of the era of Rafael Truillo with its ruler still in unchallengeable control.

The boss is Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Truillo Molina, 70-year-old "Benefactor of the Fatherland," as his Congress has dubbed him.

Truillo not only keeps a tight grip on one of the world's most durable dictatorships, but seems to command at least respect among his country's four million people.

There seems to be no organized opposition, or else it doesn't dare show itself.

The generalissimo, a firm friend of the U.S. and bitterly anti-Communist, maintains that he has the overwhelming backing of his people and works tirelessly in pushing public works and plans designed to maintain the nation's high standard of prosperity.

Rafael Truillo seized power in a military coup May 16, 1930, and started rebuilding a hurricane-wrecked, poverty-stricken land. Today he is proud that this nation owes no foreign debts and long has stood on its own feet economically.

Truillo is well aware that his government is known to the world as a dictatorship. But he insists that Dominicans can and do enjoy all the fundamental freedoms.

He has told newsmen they can travel the length and breadth of this 19,129-square-mile nation and he doubts they will find any signs of opposition.

Truillo went Thursday to the western part of the country, which shares the Caribbean sea land of Hispaniola with smaller Haiti, to open a new 10-million-dollar highway.

On the trip, thousands of women and children rushed out of back roads to greet him.

Five Counties in This Area Have Taken No Steps Toward Reassessment of Property

By SY HAMSEY

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Eastern Arkansas counties, once believed to be the bail and chain of reassessment, have surprised everyone by taking the lead in the program, state officials said today.

"The delta counties especially have gone far beyond our expectations," said Walter L. Hinton Jr., who heads the Arkansas Assessment Coordination Department.

Another baffling statistic in the latest reassessment reports shows that the five counties which have done nothing so far toward equalizing property all are located in southwest or west central Arkansas.

Hinton is at a loss to explain this trend.

"The residents there seem to be interested," he said. "It seems to be a question of local initiative."

The five counties which have taken no steps towards reassessment are Scott, Polk, Little River, Howard and Nevada.

The remaining 70 counties are involved in some stage of the massive program to bring up their property valuations to at least 18 per cent.

The law provides that each county do this or lose part of its state lump-sum revenues beginning Jan. 1, 1959.

The amount of lump-sum each county would lose depends on how far below 18 per cent it falls by the time the Aug. 1 deadline rolls around.

The lump-sums include motor vehicle revenue, gasoline taxes and school money.

Hinton said the climb of eastern Arkansas towards equalization might be due in part to the rising value of land there and the realization that industry prefers to locate in areas with an equitable tax structure.

Twenty-four counties now have completed or are working on professional reappraisal by independent state firms. They include Union, Columbia, Pulaski, Jackson, Benton, Sebastian, Desha, Washington, White, Conway, Cross, Worth, Crittendon, Calhoun, Hot Spring, Poinsett, Ashley, Arkansas, Chicot, Craighead, Phillips, Pope, Logan and Montgomery.

Among counties preparing bids for professional reappraisal are St. Francis, Stone, Greene, Boone, Sevier and Yell.

Public hearings on reassessment are scheduled soon in Clay, Dallas, Faulkner, Crawford, Bradley, Newton, Johnson and Van Buren counties.

All other counties are involved in some stage of local reappraisal or intend to obtain professional reappraisal after August.

There have been complaints about local reappraisal. Favorable or unfavorable attention to the state agency's attention.

But reassessment by outside firms could cost a county as much as $100,000 and most counties prefer to do it themselves.

The counties which are reassessing professionally represent one-third of the state's counties and nearly two-thirds of the state's assessed value.

French Vole Premier Power to Fight Plot

PARIS (AP) — The French National Assembly, meeting under the lengthening shadow of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, today voted Premier Pierre Pflimlin emergency powers to fight what he called "a plot against the republic."

A first unofficial count gave the vote as 461-114—possibly a record majority for any government since World War II.

The emergency powers act gives the three-day-old government the means of cracking down on all forms of subversive activity.

It can dissolve political organizations, arrest and hold suspects, make searches night and day, impose full censorship of press and radio, collect arms and close movie theaters and cafes.

Pflimlin, asking for special powers, told the Assembly: "There is a real plot against the republic and the established order. The government will react with vigor against those who prepared it."

One Killed in Plane Crash Near Malvern

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — A light plane crashed and burned in a field north of here today, killing a woman and critically injuring her husband.

The dead woman was identified as Mrs. Annie Diekey, 58, of Sreator, Ill. Her husband, Richard Diekey, 61, was taken to a hospital here, critically hurt with burns, head injuries and possible internal injuries.

The destination of the couple, the only occupants of the craft, was not known.

The crash occurred in a field just short of a private landing field, owned by J. C. Cusumano, about 75 yards from radio station KBOK. The scene is about one mile north of Malvern.

Witnesses said the plane, a four-seater Cessna 182, apparently was attempting to reach the landing strip when it clipped the top of high trees bordering a creek near the radio station.

Clarence Thompson of Malvern, who was operating a bulldozer nearby, said the plane was a roaring fire by the time he reached the wreckage.

Diekey, his hair and clothing matted, was crawling from beneath a wing, Thompson said, and the bulldozer operator bent out the flames with his cap. Thompson apparently was first to reach the scene.

Thompson said he saw Mrs. Diekey's body on the seat of the plane but the fire prevented him from reaching her. Her charred body was removed from the wreckage later.

Mrs. Frank Frazier of Malvern, who was seated in a car in front of KBOK, said she heard the plane circling overhead and then heard a loud crash.

She said she locked up in time to see the plane smash into the ground and burst into flames.

THE GALLOW'S GARDEN

THE STORY On the plane flying to the Mexican Republic, Milo March, an insurance detective, discovers a beautiful young woman who tried to shoot him a few hours previously. She denies knowing him.

CHAPTER XI

Just nine hours from the time we left New York the plane came down in Puerto Torcido. There was a short wait while our luggage was unloaded. The pretty little brunette sat by herself at one end of the room. I wandered over.

"Look honey," I said, "we might as well be friendly about this. Who don't you have dinner with me tonight?"

She glanced at me, then looked quickly away.

"We'll make rules about it," I said. "No fair killing me during the soup course, but you can try any time after the main course. I never liked desserts anyway. Where shall I call for you?"

"Leave me alone," she said.

I glared down at her. "I'm only trying to prove that North Americans are as gallant as our Southern neighbors. The least I can do is give you another chance."

"Please," she said. "Okay, honey," I said. "But I'll be at the Hotel Torcido. You phone me and we'll make a date."

I turned and walked away. They were soon bringing the bags in and then it wasn't long before I was called up before a small, fierce-looking customs inspector. I unlocked my suitcase and threw the lid open.

I said lightly, "Let's see, there are two guns, one holster, an ancient Spanish manuscript, the crown jewels of England and only a small amount of narcotics."

"No oaks!" he said sternly. He looked through my suitcase with a gentle hand and a bored gaze. He lifted the clothes and patted them and that was all. He took the top of the paper box and rifled the top 10 or 12 pages. To do all of this, he had pushed aside the cartons of cigarettes as though they didn't exist; then he suddenly seemed to see them.

"What is this? It is forbidden, senator, to bring so many cigarettes into the country. You will have to pay duty on these." He separated two cartons from the other one with a finger and looked at me accusingly.

I looked properly contrite and agreed to pay. The matter was soon settled and he closed my suitcase with an air of victory. I fastened it and left. But by that time the girl was gone. I had some idea of trying to follow her, but there was nothing to follow.

The hotel was beautiful and modern, looking as if it might have been transplanted from Miami Beach. I went in and registered. A bellboy took me upstairs.

"What is your name?" I asked him when we were in the room.

"Fernando," he said.

"I haven't changed my money yet," I said. "Is it all right if I tip you with American money?"

That was a silly question.

"Yes."

I took out a $5 bill and handed it to him. "I don't know how long I'll be here, Fernando," I said.

"But I'm always going to ask for you when I want anything. And there will be others like this if you do a good job."

"The senior has but to ask and I will come running," he said and left.

I still had time to make my first move. I picked up the phone and told the operator to get me the presidential palace. When the second operator answered I said that I wanted to speak to Generalissimo Torcido. She seemed a bit startled, but told me to wait a minute. After a while a male voice answered.

"What is it you wish?"

"My name is Milo March," I told him. "I am an American just arrived in Puerto Torcido. I would like to see the Generalissimo."

"Why?"

"I am here on a mission for a wealthy American," I said. "I would like to have the Generalissimo's permission as well as his advice which I'm sure will be invaluable."

I waited. Finally he came back on the phone. "Senor March?" he said.

"Yes?" I said.

"Generalissimo Francisco Perez de Calaveras Torcido Badajoz will receive you tomorrow morning at 10."

"Thank you," I said and hung up.

I gave the hotel room a quick casing before I did anything else. I had heard that all the hotel rooms in Puerto Torcido were bugged. My search didn't turn up anything, but that didn't mean it wasn't true. In a country where

Outlook to Present Story on Israel

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—When a reporter returns from an assignment with as much enthusiasm for it as he had before he undertook it, he almost invariably is a good story.

By that standard Chet Huntley should have an absorbing story Sunday when "Outlook" presents a 90 minute examination of "Israel: The Next 10 Years."

When he returned from Israel with director Jack Sughrue and cameraman Tom Priestley, Huntley had high enthusiasm for Israel's democratic army and its growing atomic energy program. They will be the chief substance of Sunday's "Outlook."

"Man for man the Israeli army is the best in the world," says Huntley. "Its chief problems involve material, not manpower for almost every Israeli, woman, as well as men—is a member of it. It is one of the biggest factors in the Middle East, yet few westerners know much about it."

"Another thing very few Americans realize is the vitality of the Israeli atomic energy program. It's not concerned with bombs, but with such things as growing tomatoes without water. It produces, for example, the world's purest heavy oxygen, much of which it exports to other countries."

Speaking of serious minded efforts on television Sunday, CBS-TV will present another in its "Great Challenge" discussion series.

One man owned everything, the bugs might be built into the rooms.

I unpacked. I'd brought with me a big roll of adhesive tape. I was quite sure that the Torcido forces knew I was coming, when I got there and why. My pretense of working for Merry Melany wasn't going to be any more than a disturbing tactic. I was equally sure that before too long I would have some sort of official visit, one much more thorough than the customs inspection. I used the adhesive tape to fasten one gun and holster underneath the springs of the bed. I taped the other gun inside the top of the toilet bowl just above the water line. Then I took a drawer out of the dresser and taped the fake manuscript under the top of the dresser.

I had barely finished when there was a knock on the door. (To Be Continued)

Gabor Woman Says She'll Sue Lawmaker

WASHINGTON (AP)—Zsa Zsa Gabor says she'll sue Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) for slander if he repeats outside of Congress his remark that she "apparently is the most expensive courtesan since Madame De Pompadour."

Hays made the remark Wednesday during House debate on the foreign aid bill. He was referring to expensive gifts given Miss Gabor by Lt. Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., son of the Dominican Republic's strong man.

Speaking through a public relations firm, Miss Gabor a few hours later challenged Hays "to come out from behind the congressional walls of immunity and repeat his statement about me."

"I will sue him for his slanderous statements," she said. Miss Gabor is here to fill a night club engagement.

There was no immediate comment from Hays.

The 29-year-old Trujillo, who is married and has six children, has given Miss Gabor a $7,000 chinchilla coat and a car. Trujillo, in this country as a military student, also has given a car to actress Kim Novak.

During the House debate, Hays tried to cut off aid to the Dominican Republic, but his amendment was defeated 79-32.

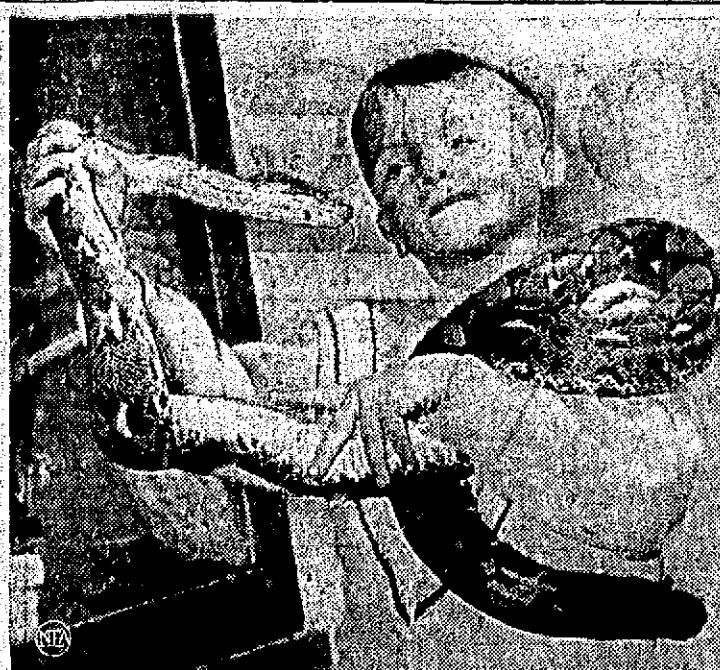

Hays quoted a telegram from the Dominican ambassador as saying young Trujillo is paying his expenses out of a $50,000 monthly allowance from his father. The ambassador entered his protest against congressional discussion of Trujillo's private affairs.

Noting that the aid bill carries $600,000 for the Dominican Republic, Hays said that just equals the young general's allowance for a year.

"If he continues fooling around the Zsa Zsa Gabor, who apparently is the most expensive courtesan since Madame De Pompadour, the old man will have to raise the ante," Hays told the House, which greeted his remarks with laughter.

Madame De Pompadour was mistress to King Louis XV of France.

Welfare Aid Payments Show a Drop

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Welfare Department aid payments dropped more than $100,000 last month, Commissioner Carl Adams said yesterday. The number of recipients also fell below the March total.

Adams reported that his agency paid $3,674,883 to 72,839 persons in April. He said that in March, a total of $3,209,887 was paid to 73,367 persons.

The April report reflected decreases in old age, aid to dependent children, aid to the blind and aid to the physically disabled.

May's report will show about the same number of eligible cases as in April, the commissioner said. But the payment total will be higher because of increases in grants to the aged and blind.

Increases estimated at about $4 per recipient in those two categories went into effect May 1.

Bramlett was operating a loader at the A. P. Green Brick yard at Bryant, Ark., when the machine overturned pinning him beneath it. He was dead on arrival here.

As their weekend guests their daughter, Miss Mary Nell Bolls of Little Rock.

PLYMOUTH SAVES YOU MONEY ON GAS... MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN VICTORY PROVES IT!

New "Fuel-Saver" Choke that helped clinch title in standard equipment on all Plymouth V-8s

Pound for pound, Plymouth uses less gasoline than either of the "other two" cars in the low-price "32". This was proved beyond doubt when a 1958 Plymouth V-8 was officially declared winner of the low-price car competition in the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. Plymouth's competitors also entered cars with V-8 engines (supposedly more economical) but Plymouth beat every car in its class—V-8s and 6s alike!

This title-winning Plymouth is exactly the same Belvedere V-8 with Torqueflite Automatic Transmission that you can buy right off your Plymouth dealer's floor.

These tests prove that every Plymouth has built-in economy features not found in the "other two". For instance—one of the most important factors in Plymouth's smashing win is the new "Fuel-Saver" Choke that you get at no extra cost on all Plymouth V-8s. This ingenious device employs a triple-stage vacuum piston and a new thermostatic element to reduce the amount of fuel you use in warming up the engine. So it can save you even more on short-distance drives—the kind most people make.

Among the many other savings Plymouth gives you is the $140 you save on standard equipment Torsion-Aire Ride. The "other two" charge up to that much extra for their best suspension systems.

So if you are dollar-conscious, better hustle over and talk terms and trade with your Plymouth dealer. He wants your business, and he'll go all out to get it!

DOROTHY DIX

Anemic Social Life Wrecks Circulation

Dear Dorothy Dix: For two years I went steadily with Grover but a short time ago we parted. I had been going with him so long that I lost contact with other boys and now that I'm unfettered, no one else will take me out. I don't meet many eligible young men, either. I work for a large concern, all the men in my department are married, the boys at church are too young so I spend my Saturdays watching Perry Como when I'd rather be out with a relaxed young man. What can I do? — D. P.

Dear D. P.: This is just another illustration of the follies of "going steady." You let a young man monopolize only your time, then when the bond breaks you realize you're out on a limb posing as the last rose of summer.

The best way to draw attention to the fact that you're again in the running is to give a lot of little parties. Invite a few boys (never mind if they're too young, just so they're masculine and eligible) and girls in for bridge to listen to your new recordings, or to play Scrabble. Don't ask too many, just enough to impress them with the fact that you're a pleasant hostess looking for a host. Let the word get around, the right men will catch on.

Dear Dorothy Dix: When the morning mail arrived today, my heart sang as I recognized the handwriting of my soldier sweet heart overseas. It quickly sank, however, when I discovered he had written a letter to another girl and accidentally enclosed it in mine. I thought he was faithful and all the time he was a two-timer. — MOLLY-O

Dear Molly-O: At least you have the comfort of knowing someone else is as miserable as you. The other girl, of course, got the same treatment and is equally heartbroken. Send the letter back to the boy and see what explanation he offers. It might have been a joke you know. In poor taste, of course, but many people have queer senses of humor.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm in a romantic mess. I often read of girls who can't choose between two men, but I have three. One is overseas, one is just a pen-pal whom I have never met personally, and one is a home-town boy who I think has been in some kind of trouble. All want to marry me. I'm on a merry-go-round. — ELIZA

Dear Eliza: Marry to round would be a better description. You take your boy friends entirely too seriously. Instead of being content with dating and friendly correspondence, you think in terms of meeting and wedding, practically in each breath. Ask your Horatian to recommend a book on the importance of marriage. Read it, then when you've grasped the fact that marriage is more than a childish game, you'll think in terms of friendship rather than marriage. If your library doesn't have books to suggest, write me for a list of them. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bing to Fill in While Como on Vacation

By VERNON SCOTT United Press Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD (UP) Oil executives going Bob Crosby took vacation next month with oil executives going Bob Crosby taking over "to try to convince Perry to give Bing his voice back."

In keeping with Como's relaxed delivery, NBC-TV is convinced that in Crosby it has found the only man in the world more likely to fall asleep on the air than Perry.

For 13 weeks, starting June 14, Bob will be at the helm of the Saturday night musical.

"I'm just filling in," Bob said. "Nobody could replace Como, and I'm not even going to try."

But this relaxed business isn't as easy as it sounds. "I call it studied relaxation, and there's a very fine line between being relaxed and being indifferent. That's where Sinatra made his big mistake. He was indifferent — and viewers spotted the attitude right away."

No performers—not the good ones at least—are ever relaxed before an audience. That goes for athletes, too.

"If you're truly relaxed there is no life at all. Entertainers must have some spunk—something inside has to be setting, but the trick is not to let it show."

"It's not an easy thing to learn."

Bob's brother Bing invented the yawn-and-stretch technique in movies and carried it over to radio. But on TV Dear Bing is as high-strung as a violin on Mt. Everest.

"Perry and I met years ago when we were both singing with bands. I was trying not to sing like Bing, and Perry played nothing but Bing's records. He told me I ought to listen to my brother more often. Now I wish I listened to him." Bob grinned.

Smaller Budge

"So far they haven't mapped a formal for this summer gig," he added. "The budget will be smaller and the producers will take charge of the guests. That makes it a little tough for me."

"I'm lucky they might allow Goodman. Ace Perry's writer, to work on the show. He's one of the very best."

Does Bob have plans for a show of his own next fall?

"I've talked to Desi Arnaz about a situation comedy series involving the life of a band leader. It would combine drama, comedy, and plenty of good music — the Dixieland kind that my old 'Bobcats' used to play."

"Talking over for Perry is a good exposure for me. If everything runs well it might help get something started for the fall."

Rules Any Person Due Witness Fee

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said today that any person is entitled to a witness fee for court appearances without regard to his official position.

The opinion, written by Chief Asst. Atty. Gen. Roy Finch Jr., went to Deputy Prosecutor Wendell Utley of Magnolia.

Utley wrote asking if a law enforcement officer on a salary is entitled to witness fees for testifying in cases where such officer has made the arrest or knows material facts necessary to the prosecution of the defendant.

In reply, Finch set out the fees prescribed by law which range for a justice of the peace to $1.50 in circuit court and said that under the law any witness was entitled to the prescribed fee.

Air Force Fires a Secret Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A missile — reportedly the Air Force's highly secret Bull Goose guided decoy weapon — was fired from the test center today.

The pint-sized missile hit the Atlantic and was out of sight in less than five seconds.

The Air Force announced minutes later that a missile was launched but no details were released. Officials usually identify the weapon when announcing a test shot.

The Bull Goose, produced by Fairchild Corp., is one of the newest weapons in the U.S. arsenal designed to deceive the enemy by simulating the return, or echo, of an airplane on a radar screen.

The Bull Goose's primary mission will be to lure out enemy radar thus allowing either aircraft or long-range missiles with nuclear warheads to roar in on target unmolested.

Redlegs Get Chance in Series Against Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The time has come for those Cincinnati Redlegs to decide whether they are to be contenders in that National League pennant race. They open a four-game series at home against the world champion Milwaukee Braves tonight.

It was a year ago today that the Redlegs busted into the N. L. lead for a stay of almost a month. Now they're fifth, 5 games behind Milwaukee.

The Redlegs lost 10 of 22 at Milwaukee a year ago and have lost four of five to the champions this season.

It was a three-game sweep by the Braves last weekend in Milwaukee that started the Redlegs on a five-game losing streak that didn't end until they managed a 3-2 victory over Pittsburgh Thursday.

The Braves were trailing 3-1 when Thursday night's game was postponed by first-inning rain at Philadelphia. That left Milwaukee in shaly command of first place—by 32½ percentage points over the San Francisco Giants, who ended the St. Louis Cardinals' winning streak at seven, 4-2.

Last place Los Angeles ended its losing streak at six—longest since 1950 for the Dodgers—with a 11th-inning, 4-2 victory at Chicago.

The Redlegs had to come from behind at Pittsburgh after leading 3-0. George Crowe drove in five runs for the Reds, doubling a two-run homer in the seventh for a 5-4 edge that ended the Pirates' winning string at six.

Bob Friend lost his second straight five victories, leaving in four-inning, ninth, capped by Crowe's two-run single.

Willie Mays hit his ninth homer, eighth in six games for a 1-0 lead in the first for the Giants and Jim Davenport's triple made it 2-0 in the second as unbelieved Mike McCormick won his third with a hit.

McCormick won his third with a hit in five decisions, although the Cards outlasted the Giants 11-5. Stan Musial was 6-for-4, losing 21 points for a 470 average.

A walk and slow motion fielding by catcher Sammy Taylor and losing reliever Herby Freeman on two bunts handed the Dodgers two runs in the 11th. Cleo Laine, making his first regular season start since Sept. 29, 1956, was the winner—his first victory since beating the Cubs in relief last July 21.

Army Private, 3 Pros Lead Memphis Play

MEMPHIS (AP)—An Army private and three pros led the field into the second round of the $20,000 Memphis Invitational golf tournament today.

On top of a hard pressing back were P. C. Mason, Budohoff of Fort Chaffee, Ark.; Chick Harbert of Georgetown, N. C.; Jim Perrowe of Wilmington, N. C.; and Ernie Mosler of Midland, Tex.

All four slammed through the first 10 holes of the 72-hole medal play tournament with 5-under-par 65.

The field behind was close packed. Thirty of the 102 starters broke par. Marty Furgot of Le Mont, Ill., was alone with a 68, but seven had 67s, six shot 68s and a dozen 69s.

Caracas Site of Davis Cup Play

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The United States opens its bid to regain the Davis Cup today with Venezuela furnishing the opposition in the first round of the American zone tennis competition.

Ham Richardson of Washington, D. C., opens the last-of-five series against Venezuela's Ivan Pimentel, Barry Mackey of Dayton, Ohio, then meet Marcos Gambus. They reverse opponents on Sunday after Bill Quillan of Seattle and Mackey meet the two Venezuelans in the doubles Saturday.

Fishing Derby at Narrows June 2-8

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (Special)—A giant Fishing Derby will be held June 2 to 8 at the Narrows Lake near here, with four classes of game fish and divisions for men, women and children contestants.

Prizes totaling $1500 will be given away during the Derby.

A Derby Day will be held Saturday June 14th, with the daily winners competing for the big cash prizes in a one-day contest. The Derby will be climaxed with a fish fry of all the caught fish at Daisy State Park, where prizes will be awarded.

A warehouse at the Game and Fish quarters near the Narrows is now being used to store rods, reels, baits, camping equipment, and other prizes. Merchants in cities and towns surrounding the scenic and fishing resort are contributing the prizes.

Contestants will pay a $1.00 registration fee for adults, and 50 cents for children and will register each day they compete, at a boat dock on the big reservoir. The contest is sponsored by the Narrows Lake Association with Frank Bray of Murfreesboro, president.

Don Moss (3-3) relieved Ray Niekirk in the fifth and gave up one run on two hits for his second victory in two days. Five of Detroit's eight hits were for extra bases—homers by Carl Harris, Lou Sleater and Frank Bolling, and a double and triple by Harvey Kuen. Bittly Hoefft (3-2) lost it although giving up but one hit—a Mickey Vernon liner that cracked the Tiger lefty on the foot and put him out of the game in the third.

Tries to Force Tigers to Sign Negro Player

DETROIT (AP)—Plans to boycott the Detroit Tigers game with the Chicago White Sox here June 14 are being readied by a group of 100 who want the Tigers to have a Negro on their roster by then.

The Rev. George Hill Jr. of Detroit, chairman of the Briggs Stadium Boycott Committee, said his group is trying to force the Tigers to sign a Negro.

The Detroit club and the Boston Red Sox are the only two major league clubs which never have used a Negro.

Atlanta Has No Trouble With Travelers

By MERCER BAILEY The Associated Press

Bob Thorpe, a veteran of 11 baseball campaigns and a recent addition to the Birmingham outfield corps, couldn't have selected a better time to come up with his first home run of the Southern Assn. season.

The 15th inning blast by the 31-year-old six-footer gave the Barons a 6-5 victory over Memphis and enabled Birmingham to maintain its one-game league lead over Atlanta, which blanked Little Rock 6-0. Chattanooga got its fifth straight well-pitched game and trimmed New Orleans 4-1 and Mobile slugged Nashville 7-4.

Thorpe's homer pined the loss on Arnold Earley, who deserved a better fate. Taking over with the bases loaded and no one out in the seventh, the Chick southpaw retired the side with only one-run damage. Ten except for a harmless single by Mel Clark in the ninth, Earley pitched perfect ball until Thorpe unloaded. Harry Byrd, who worked the last nine innings and kept six hits scattered, was the winner. Memphis got all its runs on homers by Shep Dziak, Jim Panglione and Gip Dickerson. Dickens got his in the ninth, sending the game into extra innings.

A run-scoring double by Jack Baumer followed by a three-run homer by Don Sauer put Mobile out front to stay. The Vols rallied for two runs in the ninth on a triple by Jim Frideley and a homer by Buddy Gilbert—his sixth. But Howie Rodemeyer then retired the side, preserving the victory for Don Schaffer, who now has a 3-1 chart. The loss was charged to Earl Bailey, making his first appearance since breaking an arm in an auto wreck during spring training.

Bob Hartman, a far cry from the fellow who won only eight games the past three seasons, picked up victory No. 7 against on loss against Little Rock.

A Woman Letters at Indiana School

INDIANA, Pa. (AP)—Ruth Martin leaves Indiana State Teachers College in June with a diploma and a varsity letter in tennis. She's the first woman athlete in the history of the school to earn a letter—and, incidentally, the last.

Future, women won't be permitted to participate in the varsity athletic program. School officials, decided women athletes create too much of a problem in travel and dressing room accommodations.

Sheloski High Scorer in Bowling Meet
SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Frank Sheloski of Plymouth, Pa., highlighted a day of limited activity in the American Bowling Congress Thursday. He rolled a 273 game, the highest singleton in the open team event since the tournament got underway 48 days ago.

Despite Sheloski's contribution, the Caul's Appliances & TV team was only able to eke out a 2710, not nearly enough to crack the top ten standings of the open-team division.

There have been nine other 270 games in the tournament thus far, but all have occurred in the minor events. Seven higher scores, including a 289 by Dick Haras of Chicago have also been compiled in the minor events.

RUBBER SKI PLANE—The usefulness of the Inflatoplane, air-filled rubber aircraft, has been extended by fitting it with a hydrofoil for water operation. Test pilot Dick Ulin, flying the plane over Wingfoot Lake in Akron, Ohio, reported it handled well during a series of take-offs and landings. Easily attached to the main landing gear, the hydrofoil is rigid in construction and fabricated of lightweight aluminum alloy. The plane was built for the Office of Naval Research by the Goodyear Aircraft Corporation.

R. D. Ken, left, of Orlando, Florida, and Winthrop Rockefeller, right, display two animals purchased by Mr. Keene at the Santa Gertrudis cattle sale at Mr. Rockefeller's Winrock Farm on Petit Jean Mountain Saturday, May 10.
Each of these animals brought $11,000, a world record price for a Santa Gertrudis heifer. The previous high was $8,000, paid recently for a cow with calf. Mr. Keene was the sales biggest buyer with $58,000 worth of cattle.

DIDN'T USE IRON
Iron was not used by primitive man because of its melting point of 2,795 degrees Fahrenheit; they did not know how to make fires that hot.

Altus received this name from the Latin because it was the highest elevation on the railroad between Little Rock and Fort Smith on the railroad built in the 1870's.

French Plan Crackdown on Military Coup

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Pflimlin's new government won Socialist aid today in the struggle against the spreading French military coup in Algeria.

Former Premier Guy Mollet, as leader of the Socialist party, agreed to become deputy premier. Mollet's decision is expected to be followed by a gesture to the French colonialists and military in Algeria, who underscored their defiance of Paris by organizing additional "committees of public safety."

This gesture would be the re-appointment of Robert Lacoste as minister for Algeria. Although a Socialist, he is acceptable to Frenchmen in Algeria demanding no compromise in the battle to stamp out the 3 1/2-year-old Algerian nationalist rebellion.

Defense Minister Pierre de Chevigne took new measures against the military in Algeria and Rightist-Communist trouble-makers at home.

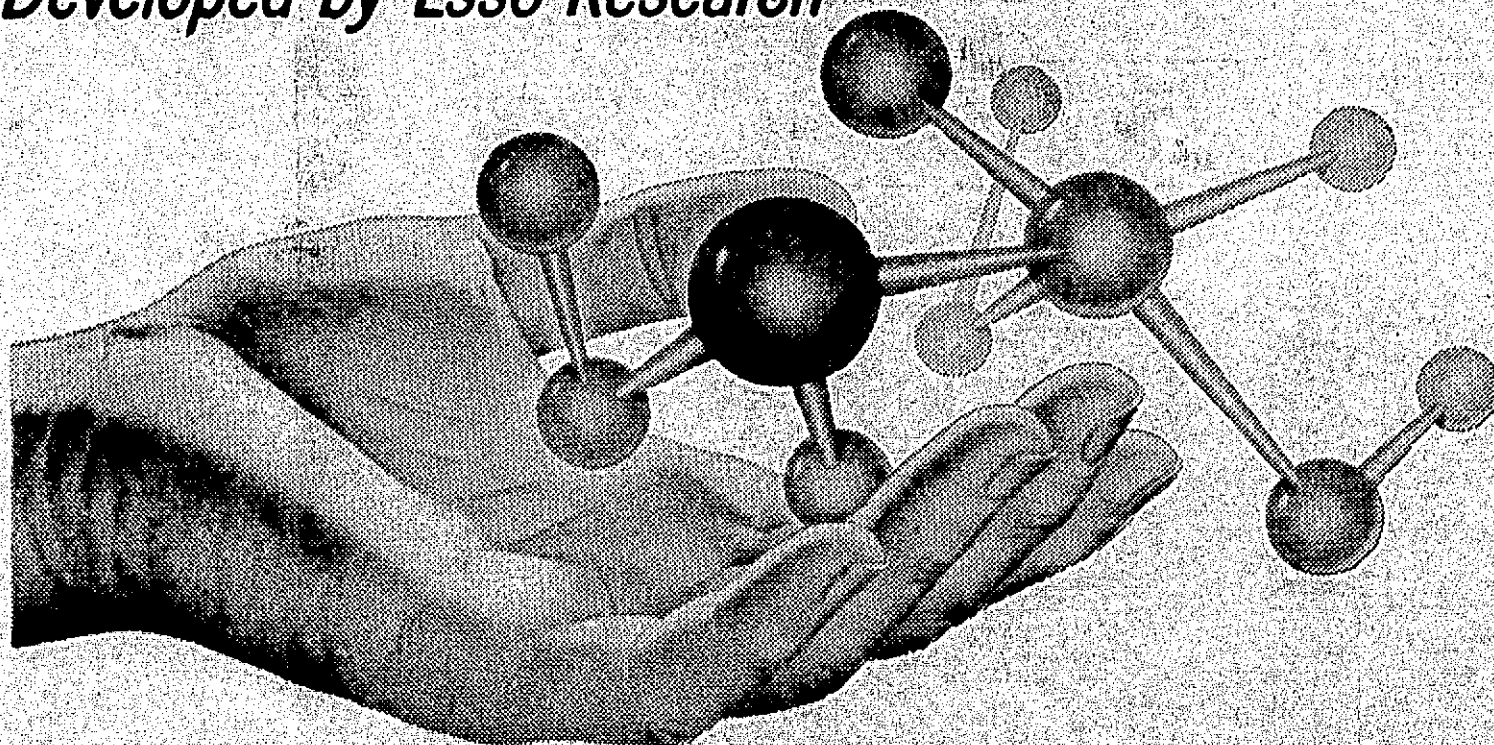

He sent orders to all ministry commanders to enforce rigid discipline and suppress any agitation among the troops. Commanders in Algeria were told to report directly to the Defense Ministry, instead of to the high command in Algiers. There was no indication whether the officers in Algeria were obeying.

More than 16,000 reinforcements were brought in to help Paris police keep order. Armored units ringing the capital were on constant alert.
